Introduction

As part of the Development Title Update, the Community Development Department has identified areas where the zoning in the urban and rural communities of the County and in the urban fringe around incorporated cities is not completely aligned with the General Plan. These are shown in Figure 1. Some parcels, intended for urban development under the 2035 General Plan, still have General Agricultural zoning, which imposes a burden on individual property owners because they have to request a zoning map amendment in order to develop their land as envisioned in the General Plan.

To correct this, the individual figures on the following pages, after the summary tables, present specific amendments to the County's Zoning Maps which are proposed to achieve consistency with the Land Use diagrams in the 2035 General Plan. In each of the figures, existing General Plan and zoning designations are shown, and then specific areas where the zoning needs to be changed are indicated with hatch marks. These amendments do not include any specific property owner requests for General Plan and Zoning Map amendments to accommodate development projects. These kinds of amendments will continue to be processed on a case-by-case basis. Nor do they include any zoning for County staff-initiated General Plan amendments which are not part of this project.

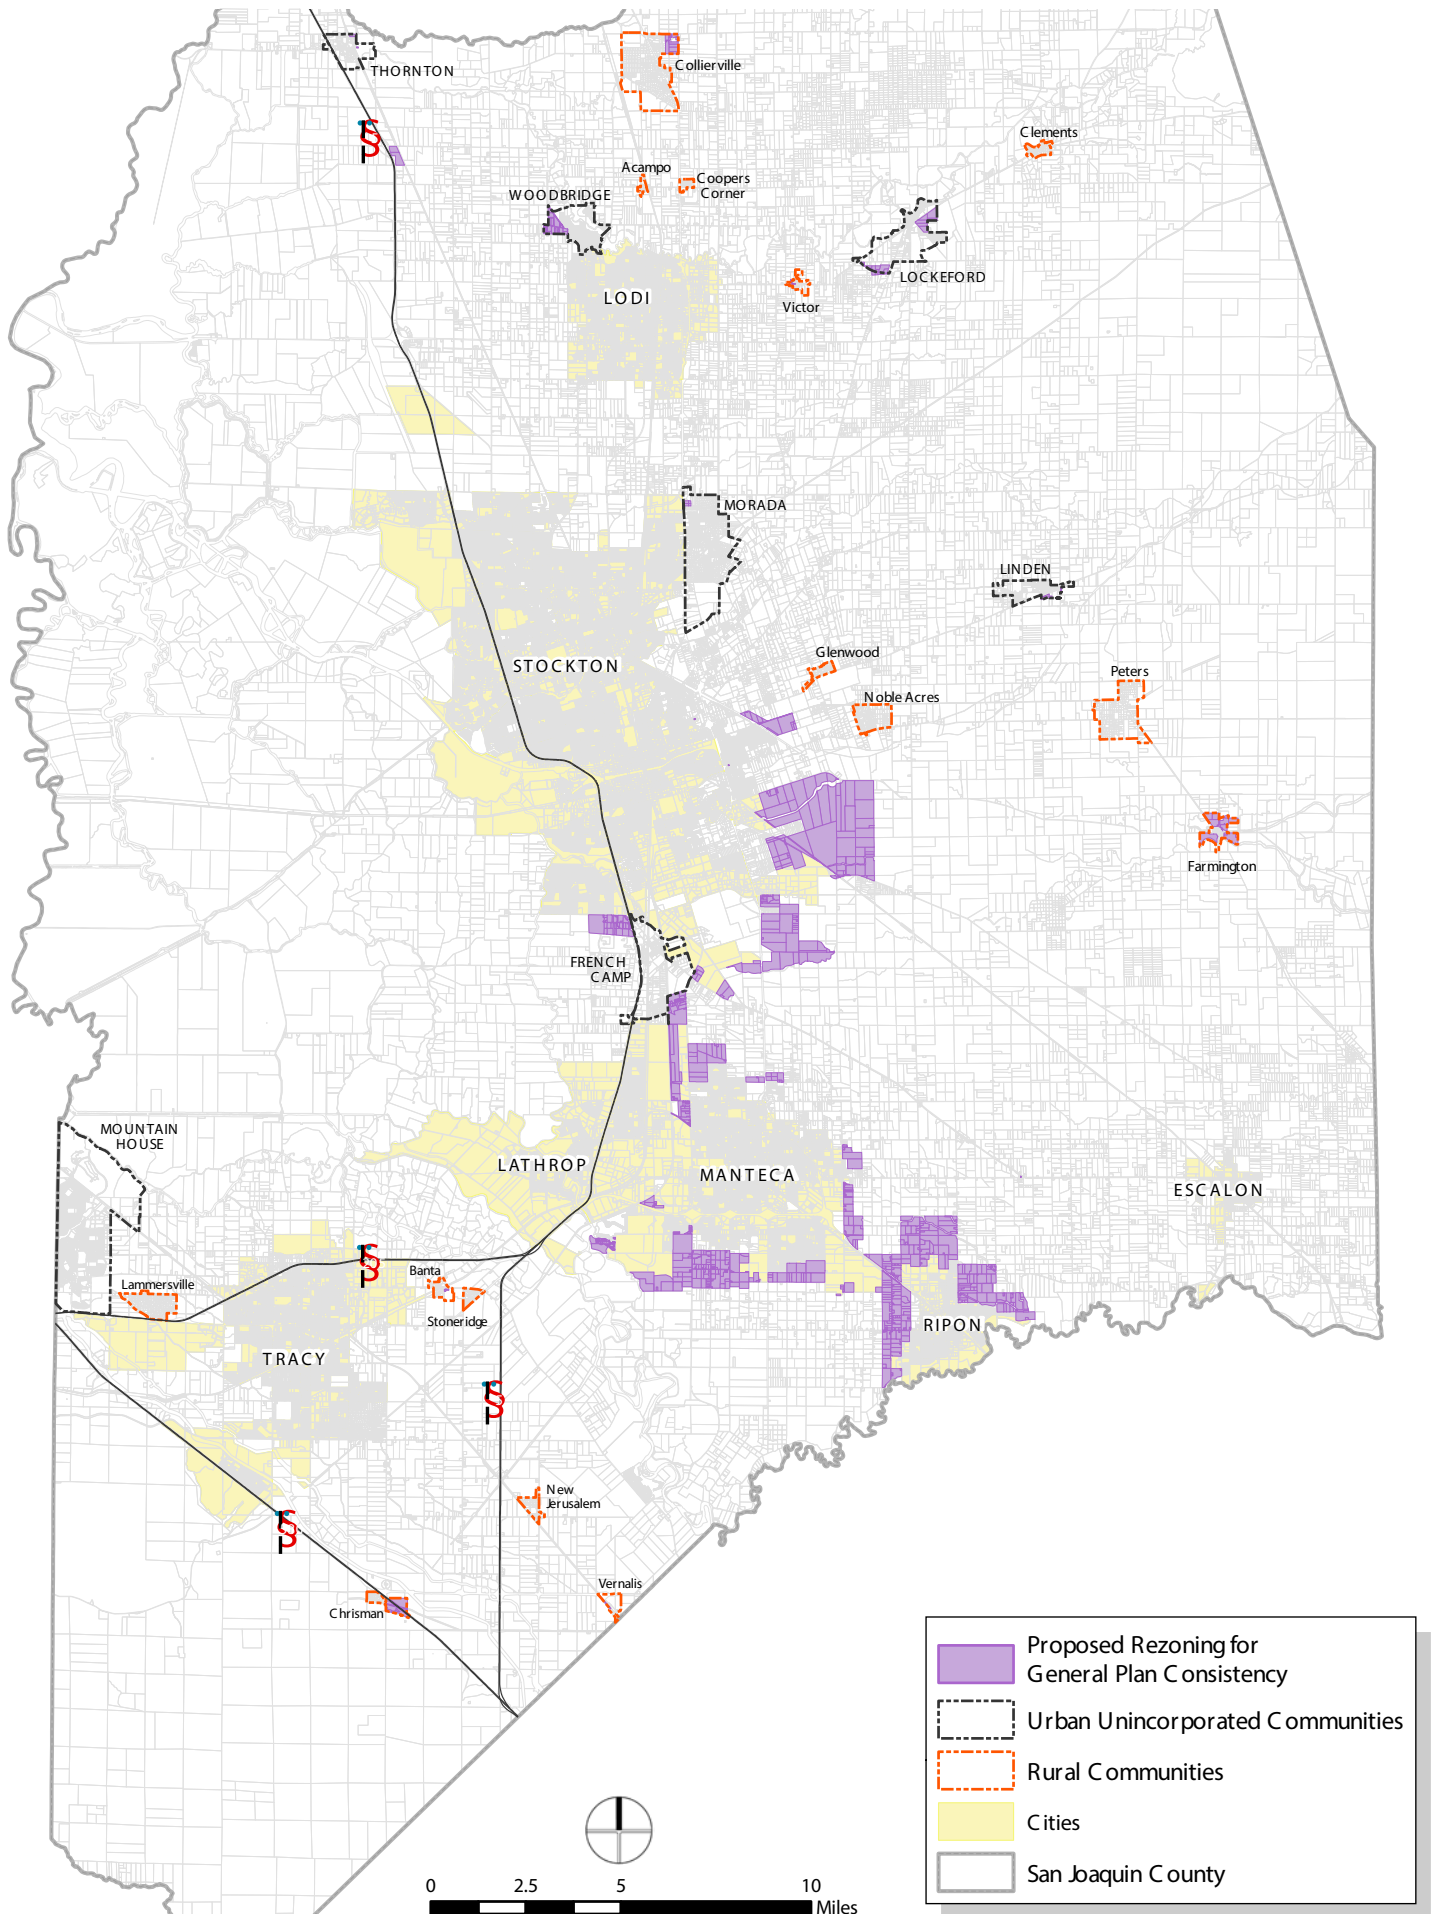

These amendments, together with the updated text for the Development Title, will meet one of the major goals of this project – to create a streamlined, internally-consistent set of regulations and Zoning Map designations that are up to date and implement the General Plan.

All told, 14,072 acres of land and 1,014 parcel will be rezoned with these Zoning Map amendments. This represents about 1.6 percent of the total land area of the County. Table 1 summarizes the acres to be rezoned in each General Plan category and the corresponding proposed zoning, while Table 2 summarizes the existing zoning of land proposed to be rezoned and the corresponding proposed zoning. The Appendix includes a detailed listing of all parcels that will be rezoned, the APN number, current zoning, the General Plan designation, the acreage that will be rezoned and whether this will be for the complete parcel or only a portion of the parcel.

The proposed amendments will be considered by the Planning Commission and then the Board of Supervisors at duly-noticed public hearings. Environmental review will be done as part of the overall review of the Development Title update, which is being conducted by ICF for the County.
